

Stephen is a Graphic Designer from Dublin, Ireland who has a passion for branding, editorial design, typography and print media. He graduated from Dublin Institute of Design in 2015, where he received his Diploma. Before immigrating to Canada, he self-published his own hand-bound photobook as a homage to his city of origin.

Stephen produces work to a high standard with an emphasis on attention to detail. His work at Bousfields includes production design, preparation of graphics, website design, design of marketing materials, and company branding.
